On Low Spirits.

OW Spirits is a certain state of the mind accompa-and by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slighest grounds, and the worst consequences imagined. Ancient medical writers sup-posed this disease to be confined to those particular re-gions of the abdomen technically called hypocondria which are situated on the right or left side of the cavi-ty, whence comes the name hypocondriasus.

Symptoms. The common corporal symptoms are flat-

SYMPTOMS. The common corporeal symptoms are flatulency in the stomach or bowels, acrid aructions, costiveness, spasmodic pains and often an utter inability of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance or engaging in any thing that demands vigour or courage. Also languidness; the mind becomes irritable, thoughtful descending melancholy and dejected accompanied ful, desponding, melancholy and dejected, accompanie I by a total derangement of the nervous system. The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imagination and overwhelm the judgement, exhibit an infinite diversity. The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the weakest.

CAUSES. A sedentary life of any kind especially severe study, protracted to a late hour in the night, and rarely relieved by social intercourse or exercise, a dis-solute habit, great excess in eating and drinking, immoderate use of mercury, violent purgatives, the suppression of some habitual discharge (on the obstruction of the mensus) or more important organs within the abdomen is frequent cause.

TREATMENT. The principal objects of treatment are, to remove indigestion, strengthen the body and enliven the spirits which may be promoted by exercise, early hours, regular meals, pleasant conversation—the bowels [if costive] should be carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild apperient. We know nothing better adapted to obtain this end than Dr. Wm. Evan's Apperient Pills, being mild and certain in their opera-tion. The bowels being once cleansed his inestimable Camomile Pills, [which are tonic, anodyne, and anti-spasmodic] are uninfallible remedy, and without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public.

Some physicians have recommended a free use of mercury, but it should not be resorted to: in many cases it greatly aggravates the symptoms.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT. Nervous diseases, liver complaints, dyspepsia, bilious diseases, piles, consumption, coughs, colds, spitting of blood, pain in the chest and side, ulcers, female weakness, mercurial diseases, and all hypocondriacism, low spirits, palpitation of the heart, nervous weakness, fluor albus, seminal weakness, indigection, loss of appetite, heart burn, general debility, bodily weakness, cholorosis or green sickness, flatulency, hysterical faintings, hysterics, headaches, hiccup, sickness, nightmare, rheumatism, asthma, tic douloureux, cramp, spasmodic affections, and those who are victims to that most excruciating disorder, Gout, will find relief from their sufferings by a course of Dr. Wm. Evan's medicine. Also, nausea, vomiting, pains in the side, limbs, head, stomach, or back, dimness or confusion of sight, noises in the inside, alternate flushes of heat and chillness, tremors, watchings, agitation, anxiety, bad dreams, spasms. LILIVER COMPLAINT. Ten year's Standing.—
Mrs. Hannah Browne, wife of Joseph Browne, north sixth street near second street, Williamsburg, afflicted for the last 10 years with Liver Complaint restored to health through the treatment of Dr. Wm. Evans.— Symptoms; habitual constipation of the bowels, total loss of appetite, depression of spirits, langour and other symptoms of extreme debility, disturbed sleep, inordinate flow of the menses, pain in the right side, could not lie on her left side without aggravation of the pain, urine high colored, with other symptoms indicating great derangement of the functions of the liver.

Mrs. Browne was attended by three of the first physi-cians but received no relief from their medicine, till Mr.

Browne procured some of Dr. Wm. Evans' invaluable preparations, which effectually relieved her of the above distressing symptoms, with others which it is not essential to intimate.

JOSEPH BROWNE.

O PARENTS.—It is stated by eminent medica writers that at least one-third of the Children in the Western part of the United States die from teething, and disease caused thereby. Read the following.

A REAL BLESSING TO MOTHERS.

DR. WM. EVANS' CELEBRATE SOOTHING SYRUP, FOR CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH.

This infallible has preserved hundreds of children, when thought past recovery, from convulsions. As soon as the Syrup is rubbed on the gums, the child will recover. This preparation is so innocent, so efficacious, and so pleasant, that no child will refuse to let its gums be rubbed with it. When infants are at the age of four months, though there is no appearance of gums be rubbed with it. When infants are at the age of four months, though there is no appearance of teeth, one bottle should be used on the gums to open the porcs. Parents should never be without the Syrup in the nursery where there are young children, for if a child wakes in the night with pain in the gums, the Syrup immediately gives ease by opening the pores and healing the gums, thereby preventing Convulsions, Fevers. &c.

DIRECTIONS.

Flease shake the bottle when first opened I When children begin to be in pain with their teeth shooting in their gums, put a little of the Syrup in a tea-spoon, and with a finger let the child's gums be rubbed for two or three minutes, three times a day. It must not be put to the breast immediately, for the milk would take the structure of the second when the teeth as would take the syrup off too soon. When the teeth are just coming through their gums, mothers should immediately apply the syrup, it will prevent their children having a fever, and undergoing that powerful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth much harder to come through, and sometimes causes death.

THE LOAFERS LAMENT.

AIR-"Exile of Erin" There came to the wharf, a poor broken down loafer, The beard on his black chin had long been unshorn for whiskey he sigh'd but his last spree was over, His pockets were empty—his shin-plasters gone.

His pockets were empty—his shin-plasters gone.

But the grog-shop attracted his eye's sad devotion.

For he knew that inspired with brandy's emotion,

He had reel'd on that floor like a ship in the ocean,

As he walked to the bar for a smaller of rum.

Sad is my fate, said the heart-broken loafer, The dog and the tom-cat to shelter can flee, But I a'nt got a coat my poor carcase to cover, And nobody cares a rum-smaller for me— Never again in green Washington square,
Can I take a sweet snooze—for the constable's there:
He'd carry me off in watyle refers y queor,
And march me to jail in a skip of a flea.

Whiskey, my lov'd one! though sad and forsaken—
In dreams to the bottle I joyfully come—
But alas! in a stall in fish-market I waken,
With the skin of my throat just as dry as a drum.
Oh, cruel fate! wilt thou never replace me,
In a grog-shop again, where constables chase me,
Where the busters I once knew, again shall embrace me
And call for liquor to welcome me home

Where is the tavern that stood by the market,

Where is the tavern that stood by the market,
Where nine times a day for a julep 1'd call,
And we jolly souls all the evening would lark it,
Busters and friends! we have wept for its fall!
No more in that temple the jolly boys meet,
No longer we loafers each other may greet,
They tore down the tavern to make a new street,
Leadness Leave them demolish the wall. In sadness I saw them demolish the wall

Yet allits sad recollections suppressing One wish alone my poor boson will draw, And bequeath to that kind heart, a loafer's last blessing And bequeath to that kind heart, a loater's last pleasing. Who will give me a smaller to moisten my craw—. Then sleep on the stall where my legs cease their motion, I'll dream that I float on an alcohol ocean, And quaffing its waves, sing aloud with d-votion, Whiskey, I love thee best when thou art raw!

STRANGE OCCURRENCE. - Amongst the apparently end less catalogue of strange occurrences and crimes with which the press has teemed, the following, which has been communicated in a letter from a lady residing near the scene of action to her friend in this vicinity, is a lit-tle the strangest we have met with. Not having seen the letter, we are under the necessity of giving a second hand account of the affair, and may consequently be inaccurate in some of our details; but the substantial facts are as furnished to us. Being personally acquainted with the writer of the letter, we have no hesitation in expressing our belief of her statements. Here is the strange tragic tale.

Some time since the sheriff of a county in the south-

Some time since the sheriff of a county in the southern part of Mississippi had received, in his official churacter, a large sum of money—say fifteen or twenty thousand dollars. Under pretext of a call from home for a day or two, he placed the money in the keeping of his wife, whom he charged to take good care of it.

Late in the evening of the day on which he left home, a stranger of genteel appearance called at the house, and asked permission to remain the over night. Disliking to entertain a stranger during her husband's absence, the wife of the sheriff denied the request, and the stranger rode on. Directly after his departure, however, the lady came to the conclusion that she had done wrong in refusing to take him in, and sent a servant to recall him. refusing to take him in, and sent a servant to recall him

With a coolness and courage that is difficult to con eive of in a woman, she did as directed; and the rob ber who received the money fell dead at he feet. Another instant and the stranger's bullet had floored a second robber. The third attempted escape, but was overtaken at the gate by the stranger, and fell under the thrust of his knife!

From the Baltimore American. ARRIVAL OF THE STEAM SHIP LIVER-POOL.

The steam ship Liverpool arrived at New York on Monday morning at 2 o'clock. We received at a late hour last night the New York Courier and Journal of Commerce of the morning, from which we make the following extracts:

There does not seem to be any material alteration in the state of the London Money Market, though the Bank of England is evidently very ill at ease. It is alleged that the plan of selling off the dead weight has not succeeded, the Bank not having been able to continue to obtain the price it demanded. That institution had entered into a negociation with the Bank of France for a supply of two millions of dollars, which was not, however, yet concluded.

The state of the weather, as the harvest time approached, was a subject of intense anxiety.— The accounts are contradictory, but we are sorry to say, the last are decidedly bad. This is also the case in France, where the price of bread had

DEFEAT OF THE TURKISH ARMY. ALEXANDRIA, July 6.
The Turkish army of Syria is defunct. The following are the facts:

On the 20th of June his Highness Ibrahim Pasha, commanding the Egyptian army, moved from its encampment, and crossed the Ladjour, and then marched to the village of Mezza, where the Sultan's cavalry, commanded by 4 Pashas, were encamped. His Highness Ibrahim Pasha ordered his artillery to take up a position within half a mile of the Turkish army, and to cannonade it. At 5. P. M. they opened their fire; in half an hour the Turkish Cavalry fled, pell-mell, in the direction of Nezib (where the Sultan's main army was encamped under Hafiz Pasha,) leaving behind them all their provisions and military chests. His Highness Ibrahim Pasha then halted the Egyptian force for repose till midnight. June 21st.—At midnight he marched towards Nezib; fell in, after daylight, with the cavalry he had cannonaded the day before, and all the re-maining cavalry of the Turkish force, which had been advanced in two divisions--namely, one half at Mezza, and the other in advance of Nczib.

Ibrahim Pasha ordered the artillery to commence their fire, and his cavalry to charge. In four hours the whole of the Sultan's cavalry gave way and fled, leaving 14 pieces of small cannon (all they had) behind June 22—the Egyptian army reposed this day. June 23—His Highness, with two regiments of Cavalry, accompanied by his body-guard and his ight artillery, left the camp and trotted up to the walls of Nezib, leaving orders with Sullieman Pasha, his Lieutenant General, to move on after him, as slowly as possible, in order that the troops might not be fatigued.

On the 24th, at midnight, the whole of the Egyptian force was in the presence of the Turks, and shortly afterwards commenced the general action, of which I give you an account in the following extract of a letter from the Austrian Consul at Aleppo, dated June 26th, in the evening.

"The army of Hafiz Pasha ceased to exist yesterday, after a cannonade of three hours. The Turks threw down their arms, and abandoned their artillery and ammunition, flying in every direction. Not one of them could have reached the Euphrates had Ibrahim Pasha wished seriously to prevent it. The city of Aleppo has petitioned Ibrahim Pasha to make arrangements for obliging the disarmed soldiery of Hafiz Pasha to recross the Euphrates, in order not to disturb the security we enjoy here.

"The population of this town is proceeding en masse on the road to Messir for the purpose of meeting several prisoners of rank who are expected to arrive. On the field of battle were taken several English amateurs, who were brought thither cisely on the same ground occupied yesterday morning by Hafiz Pasha and his army. To-morrow or next day the Egyptian advanced guard, commanded by Osman Pasha, will commence passing the Euphrates—every thing indicates that such is the intention of the Egyptian Seraskier."

The friends of the English amateurs before mentioned need not be under any apprehensions about them, as Ibrahim Pasha will give them instant

"This day (July 6) the Pasha's steamers the Genoroso and the Egyptian arrived, but we regret to say that they do not bring Ibrahim Pasha's despatches. We suppose he thinks his laconic telegraphic despatch to his father, via Damietta, to be sufficient. It ran thus-"the Turks are dispersed; they have left behind them every thing, besides 6000 prisoners." By these vessels we learn that 4000 of the said prisoners have applied to enter the Pasha's service. They have been accepted, and transports have been ordered to Scanderoon to bring them here. They will probably be sent to the Hedias and Yemen, to assist in bringing the whole of Arabia under the Egyptian government.

HAVRE, Saturday, 27th, 1839, 5, P. M .-- Cot ton .- Our Cotton market remained very quiet up to the 25th instant, when a sale of 300 bags Louisiana, fair quality, to arrive within three months, took place at 102f. The receipt of more favorable intelligence from England gave an impulse to the demand, and on that and the following day about 5500 bales were taken at an improvement of 2 a 3 centimes. Fair descriptions were the most sought for, and the transactions were altogether for the trade, for no speculation appeared in the market.

To-day, there is less doing, and business will be suspended on Monday, on account of the celebration of the anniversary of the July revolution .-The month of July, which is usually considered the dullest in the year, has been, singular to say, the briskest one we have had, the outgoings being 28,000 bales, and the arrivals only 13,600. The article seems now to be in a very favorable position, and as no fresh supplies are looked for, our stock must necessarily diminish daily. We quote Louisiana at 107f a 108f, middling at 102f a 103f.

Coffee has also experienced an improvement, and about 8000 bags Hayti and 1500 bags Havana are reported during the week.

LIVERPOOL, July 30 .- CORN EXCHANGE .-Since Tuesday, the 23d inst, the fresh supplies for the Corn trade coastwise, and from Ireland, are small, but from foreign ports there is a good arrival of Wheat and other articles. The weather has continued very unsettled, occasionally bright and warm, but more frequently windy and wet. This morning the grain crops in this neighborhood were mostly up again, after having been much lodged by the heavy rains of Saturday.

A very large business has been done with the dealers and with speculators, in all kinds of Wheat, chiefly free foreign, at an advance on last Tues-day's quotations of 8d. to 6d. according to the quantity and quality. Several parcels in bond Dantzig, also a cargo of free, on board at Donzig, at 45s per quarter

LONDON, July 25 - The continuance of the present rather stormy weather has created some uneasiness in the Corn Market, and a further advance has taken place in the value of that necessary article; but we have seen many letters from various parts of the country, which represent the quantitrivial, and that the effect of the weather has onshire it appears to have suffered most. As a counterpoise to this unsatisfactory news, the letters from Manchester state that there was a good deal doing yesterday and the day before in yarns for export, at an advance of a farthing; and late yesterday a rise of a half penny was demanded .-They seem to think there that the foreign orders, which have been kept in obeyance so long, will now be executed, under the impression that the Bank of England has abandoned its restrictive

The Weather-Prospects of the Harvest .- We have again to notice a week of very unseasonable weather. Rain has fallen both frequently and theavily, and it must have had an injurious effect on the crops, particularly on the hay. Notwithstanding the long continuance of wet weather, we hear that the harvest in this district, promises to be an average one; but much as to the result will depend on the weather of the next few weeks. From other districts the accounts of the state of the crops are contradictory, and little reliance can be placed on them. The tenor of the statement is, that the harvest will, under the most favorable circumstances, not be above an average appearance in the wheat in not less than sixteen mischief among the growing crops. Whether any reliance can be placed on these sinister rumors we know not. Let us hope that they are exaggerated, and that we shall yet be blessed with an abundant harvest. A failure in the crops this year would be the direst calamity which could visit the land.—The failure of last year's harvest has deranged the currency, and paralysed trade and commerce; the failure of the next would, by causing another drain of gold; render a bank restriction, with all its train of evils, inevitable.

The Charleston Mercury denounces in strong terms the system of borrowing money from abroad, which has been indulged in to so great an extent by the various States of the Union. The editor observes:

"The first and direct effect of the sudden inculating capital from abroad is of ne essity a sudden and dangerous enlargement of the currency of such State The money borrowed is deposited in the banks, and becomes the basis of paper issue to an amount generally for beyond the loan. Imagine a young State like Illinois or Mississippi suddenly smitten with the frenzy of 'developing' have been sold at 8s. 8d. for Wisram and 8s. 3d, for her resources, and pouring in upon her infant population millions of foreign money If it cost nothing, if it did not bind the State in long years of servitude to her distant creditor, it would still be a curse, and tend more to poverty than riches. A! whole State is made drunk, a spirit of gambling pervades all business, wholesome industry is deserted for wholesale venture, the discretion and moral feeling of the community are lost, extravachiefly with the country dealers, and almost exclusively in free foreign. Prices were 3d to 4d dearer than on this day se'nnight for fine qualities, and all is a general crash. In another sense, and scarcely less directly, the State is the cause of this extravagance endi g in ruin, viz in the expenditure of the loan. What opportunities for mismanagement and corruption are afforded by a State suddenly increasing its annual expenditures from one to five millions of dollars? How is it possible that ignorance, waste, and extravagance should not mark the whole transactions? Enormous sums are expended for trifling objects, fortunes are suddenly and unaccountably made by all connected with the administration of the loan, and the divine right of syeculation is pleaded by banks and ty prostrated by the wind as comparatively very agents ag inst all inquiry nto their doings. Thus a State Government, instituted for the most benefily been partially felt. Along the coast of Devon- cent purposes, becomes a fountain of speculation, corruption, bankruptcy."

A HEAVY ACCOUNT .- The North American, a paper published at Swanton, Vt., contains a table setting forth the amount of property burned and pillaged by the troop and loyalists in Lower Canada, during the late insurrction. The following recapitulation exhibit the result:

219 Houses burned. Houses demotished [in St. Anthanese] Barns, stables, and out houses burned, 380 Families plundered, 3061 Total amount of property destroyed, $319,218

HEAVY ROBBERY .- The store of S. & J Tams, China and Liverpool ware merchants, in Market and Sixth street, was entered on Friday night by means of false keys, and robbed of papers, money and goods to the amount of near $150,000 They offer a reward of $1000. It is well known that there are four or five of the most celebrated burglars now at large in this city, and the consequence is a robbery almost every night, in some part of the town.

THE MOUNTSTERLING ACADEMIES, MALE AND FEMALE.

MR. EDITOR: Sir-The examination of the pupils of these respective Seminaries of learning, transpired on the 13th, 14th and 15th inst. The former in the Meth-odist, and the latter in the Baptist Church of Mt. Sterodist, and the latter in the sapist Church of M. Sterling. The deep interest now beginning to be felt on the subject of education, by almost all classes of citizens, induces me to give a brief recital, (as far as I witnessed it,) of the results of those examinations, and the impressions made upon my mind, that those having children to educate, may know where it can be successfully exceeded.

The first in the order of examination was the Male School, under the superintendance of Mr. Plunkett.— I his examination embraced Orthography, English Gramand its correct Geography promptly given, embracing its principal rivers, mountains, cities, towns and general products—grasping indeed the more minute as well as the more important objects.

In History the success was perfect. The History of the world was spread out, and the auditors united to select any Kingdom or Country. England was chosen, ther History, from the earliest times down to the present was called for, and the class underwent a close and critical examination in all its parts. It was no less aston ishing than it was delightful, to see and hear children ishing than it was delightful, to see and hear children under fifteen years of age, giving the history of that ishing than it was delightful, to see and hear children under fifteen years of age, giving the history of that kingdom—marking with accuracy every change—the causes of the change, identifying those changes and their causes with dates when they transpired, and the names of all the conspicuous actors therein. Considering the many, very many changes and revolutions to which that country has been subjected, together with the many improvements time has brought about in a space covering nineteen hundred years, and the thousands of actors in all these changes, I say, Mr. Editor, it was astonishing to witness the accuracy and promptness with which Children, could unfold its true character and history, and evinced most clearly the deep founter and history, and evinced most clearly the deep foun dation laid in the pupil's mind, as well as it also exhibits the eminent talents on the part of the principal in successfully laying a permanent foundation for a good, not a superficial, education for all his pupils. In composision, decided talent was elicited, and in some instances academy embraced all in the other, with the addition of Music, chimistry and Botany. The French language is also taught as I am informed, but no pupils were examined in it during my attendance. But Mr. Editor the sight of some fifty or sixty girls and young ladies, all dressed in beautiful yet uniform costume, was most delightful and interesting. But then to witness so close, so piercing an examination in their various studies as that to which they all submitted; and to hear from the little firm line of six or eight years, up to the rosy beaulittle tiny lips of six or eight years, up to the rosy beauty of twelve and fifteen, the answers to the thousand juestions of more or less difficulty which spread them elves over Grammar, Geography, History, Philosophy Geology, Chemistry, Music &c., and to witness the clearness, aptitude, decission, promptness, and I might say universal correctness of the answers, it was a scene taken altogether, I venture to assert, has never been surpassed in any state of this union by any thing of the like kind. And then the Music, it was charming. The performances upon the Guitar and Piano were creditae in all and in many instances graceful, elegant and

The grace, case and dignity with which the lady pre ceptresses presided upon this occasion, evidence high qualifications for the improvement and advancement of the young ladies, in the acquisition of ease and elegance of manners. The citizens of Mountsterling can never too highly estimate the talents and value of those, who, at the head of these two Seminaries, have elevated their town in point of educational advantages, with any in this State. The two Schools contain, I am informed, this State. he two Schools contain from eighty to one hundred pupils, and efforts are now being made to place them upon a permanent footing, by the erection of suitable and handsome buildings In the mean time, they will recommence again in a few weeks, in the same rooms heretofore occupied by them respec

There was a meeting of many of the political friends of Hugh L. White, held in Madison County, Tennessee, on the 20th of last month, at which they decided upon the course it was proper for them to pursue, in respect to the next Presidential election. The preamble and resolutions reported upon the occasion, after reciting the avowed principles of Judge White, on account of which he was preferred by the persons present, declare, that it is impossible for them to support either of the candidates nominated by the opposition. They object to Mr Clay particularly, because of his acknowledged departure from principles which he professed at an early day, his broad construction of the constitution, his s rong attachment to the Tariff system, the aid he has given to extravagant appropriation, and the course he has adopted in relation to the sale and settlement of the public lands. Here is the vew which is taken of his political

"The first decument we have met with, which, gives a clear development of Mr. Clay's early principles, is his famous speech against the Bank of the U. S. in 1811, an extract from it as follows:

"The vagrant power to erect a bank, after having wandered throughout the whole Constitution in quest of some congenial spot to fasten upon, has been at length, located by the gentleman from Georgia on that provision which authorizes Congress to lay and collect taxes. In 1791, the power is referred to one part of the instrument; in 1811 to another. Sometimes it is alleged to be deducible from the power to regulate commerce. Hard pressed here, it appears, and shows itself under the grant to coin money. If then, as is contended, you could establish a bank to collect and distribute the revenue, it ought to be expressly restricted to the purpose of such collection and distributon. It is a mockery, worse than usurpation to establish it for a lawful object, which is not lawful. In deducing the power to create corporations, such as I have described it, from the power to lay and collect taxes, the relation and condition of principal and incident are prostrated and destroyed. The

"To this exposition of the Constitution, both in regard to the Bank and the general restriction, which he throws around the powers of the Federal Government, we give our most hearty assent. It is purely Democratic and in strict accordance with the doctrines of '98. But, alas! what sad changes have a few short years wrought in the sentiments of this distinguished man! In 1815 he changed his whole position, which had been so admirably sustained by him in 1811, and voted directly to the reverse of them. From that time to this, he has, in our opinion, been gradually departing from the Republican doctrines of '98, and is now completely identified with the Federal principles he then denounced as being the offspring of John Adams's administration.

"As a further evidence of this, in a few years he not only elected, but joined in the administration of John Q. Adams, which was as deeply Federal as that of his father. He publicly denounced J. Q. Adams as being guilty of misrepresentations in relation to the treaty of Ghent, and charged him with an intention to give the British the right to navigate the Mississippi river, and then voted for this man against him who drove the British from the de Paris, relates the following extraordinary s ene as having taken place at the Court of Assizes. A youth of about nineteen was brought to trial for having broken the indow of a baker's shop and stolen a two-pound loaf.

Prisoner .- "I was driven by hunger."

"Why did you not buy it?"

"Because I had no money."

"But you have a gold ring on your finger; why did you not sell it?"

"I am a foundling: when I was taken from the bank of a ditch, this ring was suspended from my neck by a silken cord, and I kept it in the hope of thereby discovering at least who were my parents: I cannot dispose of it."

The Procureur du Roi made a violent speech against the prisoner, who was found guilty, and sentenced to imprisonment for five years. Immediately upon this a woman, more worn down by poverty than age, came forward and made the following declaration.

young woman was seduced by a young man of the cy in the size of lumps. "A companion that is cheerful, and free from swearing and scurrilous discourse, is worth gold. love such mirth as does not make friends ashamed to look upon one another next morning; nor men that cannot well bear it, to repent the money that they spent when they be warmed with drink .-And take this for a rule: you may pick out such times and such companions, that you may make yourse.ves merrier for a little than a great deal of money—for 'tis the company, and not the charge, gave up the bet. that makes the feast."

The experiment of paving a part of Tremont street, in Boston, with wooden blocks has thus far proved satisfactory. The Atlas says that the blocks are smoother than when first put down, and present a clean and even surface, sufficiently convex to carry off the water, and carriages pass over them with as little noise as if rolling over a grassy plain. Mr. Lawrence, the gentleman who prepared this pavement, has warranted the work to remain sound for one year, and has given his bond to the city government, in a sum sufficient to repave the right to breathe the air of heaven in its parithat part of the street, in case it should be broken up within that time by the frost or rains

FRONT STREET THEATRE .-- We were by a visit to this establishment, in the truly wonderful performances of a number of animals so wild in their nature that they have been generally deemed untameable after a certain age. But here we saw the tiger upon the stage, in the immediate human being stretched on his back and with his race and throat sometimes within the animal's EXTRAORDINARY DISCOVERY.—The Chronique jaws One involunturally shrinks from the scene, this city on Monday Morning last, Mrs. POLLY and yet there is a sense of security to the most timid female, in the complete command the man exercises over the beast. The feat with the lion is not less interesting, and completes a very picturesque eastern scene. Upon this the plot is developed.

Corrected weekly for the Kentucky Gazette, by William R. Bradford, Exchange Broker, No. 28, East Main st. The President .- "Why did you steal the loaf?" After being thrown into the den for a bandit, and as punishment for an attempt to win the Rajah's betrothed, he is made the instrument to discover a mystery involved in the prophecy that,--"When one man shall be found bold enough to drive an untamed lion like a steed, to the top of the holy mountain, then shall the oracle declare that which the Rajah seeks to know." The task is accomplished by Afghai, (Carter) and the Oracle declares him to be the Rajah's son. And it strikes us that the Rajah ought to make the most of him, for he is likely to prove an only son, if the honor is to be purchased only at so dear a rate.

'I will bet five dollars you never took thirty ounds of butter from me, at any time." Done.

The money was staked-and the clerk told he story. I looked blue for the country man. 'I admit the loss of thirty lumps of butter,' said he, but to have been thirty pounds, there must have been a pound in each lump. Now, either the clerk did me injustice by confiscating my but ter for unlawful weight, and I may claim back of him thirty pounds, at 25 cents per pound, which is $7 50; or he did not take thirty pounds, and I may claim my bet of five dollar." The clerk

STREET SMOKING .- It is perhaps of very little use to remonstrate against this practice, because most of the persons who are guilty of it are negroes or low white men, who make no claim to rank as gentlemen and of course are not influenced by the courtesies which are recognized by public opinion. Yet with the most vulgar, we should hope that there were one spot of fairness groes or low white men, who make no claim to within them which would make them unwilling to deprive others of a right so unquestionable, as ty. It is bad enough to indulge in such a habit any where. But if men choose to do so, it should be on their own premises or in places appropriated to the purpose. Smoking nominbuses, in pub lic streets of a city, or in any other public place where people assemble without any convention which allows the practice, is certainly a very illiberal and unfair invasion upon the rights of other people, and what, it seems to us, no gentleman with the feelings of a gentleman, about him at the time, would be guilty of. This everlasting smoking is a filthy business any how, and unhealthy, and a plague to every one addicted to it. #### NOTICE THIS

WHITE SULPHUR WELL, SCOTT Co. Ky.,

THE undersigned has taken possession of this useful fountain, having the sole management of it by contract. The arrangements have been made under the advice and judgement of Major A. Throckmorton, of Louisville, so well known for his experience, capacity and judgment in such matters. I have the assurance of the continued advice, and occasional visits of this same the continued advice, and occasional visits of this same | States. distinguished individual during the watering season. I will be able to accommodate all who may come. I am prepared to give reasonable satisfaction to all.

I have associated with myself, several active, efficient, and respectable gentlemen, to assist me in accommoda-ting my visiters. Among these I will mention Mr. John T. Campbell, late of Frankforrt, and Mr. L. Calvert, the recent proprietor of the Well. This celebrated foun-tain of white Sulphur Water is situated about ten miles from Frankfort and seven from Georgetown, and within nair a mile from the great Turnpike road between the two places. The location is upon the land of Col. R. M. Johnson, and one mile from his residence and the Choctaw Academy. The water is used from a pump, Choctaw Academy. The water is used from a pump which brings it 27 feet below the surface of the earth. It has been a place celebrated for the last 50 years as a resort for Deer and Buffalo, but has only been known as This well or fountain of water has been visited by lite-ry and scientific gentlemen, among whom the celebra-ted Dr B. W. Dudley, of Lexington, who stands so emi-nently high in his profession, as well as for his literary attainments. He has said this water is of superior quality and usefulness, and recommends it to the invalid, as useful and valuable, and to the healthy to preserve their health. Mr. John Lewis, late of Virginia, and now resident of Kentucky, distinguished for his literary and sci entific acquirements, has visited most of the watering places in the United States, and gives this the most deci ded preference over all.

The water is cold and pleasant. A taste for it is soon created by using it, in most persons.

The warm baths made some extraordinary cures last The cold and shower baths will also be well at tended to; they also have proved beneficial and delightful. The Well is within a mile of Elkhorn, which affords good fishing at all times. The woods and forest in which it is located, affords every amusement and exercise that can excite those who seek bodily exercise for health or pleasure. Daily Stages will run to the springs from Frankf rt and Lexington, connecting with other daily Stages to every point in the State.

I therefore invite to this pleasant retreat, those who seek retirement from the cares of business in this warm season of the year. I invite the invalid to come who wishes to be restored to good health, and all who wish to preserve their health, and those who seek innocent recreation and amusement, to come, as I pledge myself to devote my time and attention to their accommodation and comfort. I will be prepared to accommodate all who may come on horseback or in their private carriag es, with stables and provender or good pasturage. I so licit patronage, and pledge myself to merit it

P. S. There is a Post Office at the White Sulphur Well, which brings the daily news and will enable those who are here to keep up their correspondence.

Unexampled Mammoth Scheme!!!

Whe following details of a scheme of a lottery to be drawn in December next, warrants us in declaring it to be unparalleled in the history of Lotteries. Prizes to the amount have never before been offered to the public. It is true there are many blanks, but on the other hand the extremely low charge of $20 a ticket, the value and number of the Capitals, and the revival of the good old custom, of warranting that every prize shall be drawn and sold, will, we are sure, give universal satisfaction, and especially to the Six Hundred Prize-Holders.

To those disposed to adventure, we recommend early application to be made to us for tickets—when the pri-zes are all sold, blanks only remain—the first buyers have the best chance. We, therefore, emphatically say, DELAY NOT, but at once remit and transmit to us your orders, which shall always receive our immediate attention. Letters to be addressed, and applications made te

FEMALE CORDIAL OF HEALTH. THIS invaluable preparation is a medicinated Wine, pleasant to the taste, grateful to the stomach, and eminently tonic in its effects. But its highest and best quality is in its specific and and curative effects on female Very many of the wives and mothers among us are con-Very many of the wives and mothers among us are con-demned to untold sufferings, by diseases arising from local and genaral debility; and because they find no relief from the strenghening remedies in common use, they are too often given up by the Faculty as incurable. Weakness-es, as well as the pains in the back and limbs, with which such females are afflicted, will all yield to the sovereign and infallible effects of this CORDIAL OF HEALTH. And for the weaknesses consequent upon the obstruc-tions and irregularities to which unmarried and young females are subject, there can be no remedy in the whole Materia Medica, which combines such innocent and cur-
